Make Your Garden A Joy Forever

Folks who build flower gardens and wish such spots to fulfil the ideal of "a thing of beauty and a joy forever" must obey Mother Nature's natural law of compensation. To obtain benefits things of value like plants, seeds, bulbs, and labor must be put into the soil. However successful balayhoo and fakery may be in the man-made business world, they fail utterly when asked to produce dividends in the garden.

We plead guilty to getting out our catalogs as economically as possible; also to trying to keep ballayhoo out of them, the saving is passed on in lower prices. Please remember our descriptions of varieties are based on their performance under Puget Sound climatic and soil conditions. We do not over fertilize and, so far, we have never irrigated our fields. Our stock is grown under dry farming methods and because of this is strong and accustomed to putting up a fight. Our customers find this a big factor for success.

Every year we try out many new varieties. Every year a number of these are discarded because they do not measure up to the pictures and descriptions printed about them. We want to send out only those things we have found to be good and if you are not satisfied when you receive the goods, send 'em back and get your money. That's our only guarantee but we make it good.

Terms of Sale--Read Before Ordering

Unless otherwise noted we pay transportation on all orders for $1.25 or more to be delivered to points north and west of a line drawn from San Francisco through Salt Lake City to the northeastern corner of Montana. Customers living south and east of this line please add extra money to pay the extra transportation. Any surplus over such extra charges will be returned. If your order is for less than $1.25 add 25c to cover packing charges.

Orders for glad bulbs of our own introduction (Kaylor, Miller or Johnson) will be prepaid to all parts of the U. S. and Canada.

Washington customers MUST prepay sales tax.

Remit by money order, draft or check. Cash and stamps sent at customer's risk. If stamps must be sent, please send small denominations.

Flower Garden Experience And Experiment

During the years we have devoted to plant growing we have carried out many experiments and gained some little experience. It all adds up to some so-called information which we have set down on paper. Some of it upsets some long-held ideas. Some of it may be cockeyed but we will be glad to send a copy to everyone sending an order for $2.00 net from this catalog. Ask for it if you want it.

Was He Satisfied?

Last spring we received this letter from a customer in Seattle.

"Having had stuff from you before and knowing what you have, I enclose five dollars. Send me any sort of mixture of a lot that is different. Just imagine, Brother, that you are in my place once and you the buyer not me and I have confidence I shall be most agreeable surprised latter on."

In August this customer wrote: "In my sixty years of gardening I do not remember anytime I got the tremendous thrill out of growing things that I am now enjoying from those Gladiolis you sent me last spring. You certainly sent me prize numbers and I think you may expect orders from my friends next year. Certainly I would not think of going elsewhere myself and for such stock, your prices were most reasonable. I see some of those penny wise and pound foolish folks about. They bought penny bulbs and got what they paid for and no more.

J. H. S.

Millions of cut glad flowers are now being shipped north from Florida and other southern states. The bulbs that produce these flowers will be harvested, cured and shipped north in time for sale next spring. They are exhausted bulbs and will not have had any rest. They will be sold to northern customers in April and May at very low prices. Do you want them? J. H. S. did not and tells the story better than we can.

We Offer Two Fine New Glads.

In their effort to understand the phenomena of nature, the Indians of the Northwest Coast have many legends, one of which is that thunder is caused by the wings of an immense bird as it flies across the sky.

Indian wood carvers worked the legend into their Totem pole histories and also into smaller patterns for home adornment as good luck.

Because the Thunderbird symbolizes dark grandeur, we chose this name for our new dark red Glad. A child of Leschi, Thunderbird is an improvement on the mother. The purple-red of Leschi is deepened into a reddish black. The florets are more cup-shaped with an even thicker and heavier texture and a longer stem. Thunderbird grows a 55-inch spike without "petting"-- we never pep them up with extra water and fertilizer. Opens up to eight on a 20 bud spike. Folks who have seen it in our fields will know it as Seedling 35-53. The price for 1940 is $2.00 for large or mediums. No smalls for sale.

Ardis.

Among local Glad Fans none is more enthusiastic than H.B. Johnson, who came to America from Iceland as a boy. Through hard work and close attention to details, H. B. developed a successful dairy and poultry farm, and, having reached an age and financial position where he could indulge in a hobby, "got stung" by the Glad Bug. Result of hybridising, some very fine seedlings one of which is Ardis.

As we understand it Ardis, translated into English, means the birth of the day, the awakening of dawn, just before sunrise. It tells the story of this fine extra early apple-blossom pink. The rest of the story is up to eight deep throated, translucent florets on a 20-bud spike up to five feet tall. Rapid multiplier - even small bulbs producing six floret spikes - and bulblets germin-ating well. Price for 1940, Large, $1.00; Medium, 75¢; Small 60¢. Six at the price of five. H. B. has many more to follow during the next few years. Watch for them.

Gladioli Price List--Season of 1940
from Kaylor Nurseries, Blaine, Washington

Bulb Sizes: L (large) are from one and one-fourth to two inches in diameter. M (medium) three-fourths to one inch will produce fine spikes. S (small) less than three-fourths inch. Many will bloom nicely late in the season.

Stocks of some varieties are short this year. We do not substitute varieties but reserve the privilege of sending equal or greater value of next size when size ordered has been sold out. However, we do substitute varieties on orders received after April 20, so order early.

Be sure and read Terms of sale on second page before sending your order.

Glad to make special prices on quantities larger than listed. Write us your requirements.

Dahlias For Landscape Effect

Dahlias are as necessary in the well-planned garden as are perennials and shrubs. Through careful selection we have built a stock of kinds that we can recommend as first class. If your garden space is limited plant the low growing kind, Copper King, Baby Royal, Amber Queen and others.

We cannot always be sure every tuber will germinate, so if some of them fail, send them back and get your money. Our tubers are plump, well-cured and not weak and shriveled. This means success.

Note: Plant dahlias in the bottom of a seven inch hole and as they grow work the soil around the stems. Better stake them as wind is very destructive of good flowers and dahlias cannot take it.

Tigridias.

This brilliant bulb flower is also known as the Mexican shell flower. Wide, flaring petals. They last but one day but after they fade another blossom forms and opens in about five days. A dozen bulbs will make your garden gay all summer. A dozen bulbs, mixed colors mostly reds and yellows, 65¢

Dahlia Collections

Ten tubers -- all different kinds, small, medium and large flowers labeled. $1.50. Not labeled, $1.25.

For large gardens, twenty tubers, all types, not labeled, $2.40. No discount on collections.

OUR FALL PRICE LIST

Describes tulips, hyacinths, bulbous iris and other bulbs and plants that should be planted in the fall. May we send it to you next summer?

Chrysanthemums Are "MUST HAVES"

If your garden is to be a thing of beauty in the fall the following fine Mums will turn the trick. We have spent a lot of time and money in testing varieties and feel this list contains the best of the hardy kinds. All are hardy on Puget Sound. We have small quantities of American Black Walnut, American Elm, Black Ash and other trees, also other shrubs. Will be glad to quote prices if you will write.

End-Of-Season Gladioli Sale

Gardners are progressive folks always seeking a change. That's why we never know just how many of each variety of glads to plant each spring. Result—the end of the season finds some kinds sold out. In others we have a surplus. Our End of Season collection gets this surplus. It's not an ordinary collection but is made up of fine varieties, including high priced late introductions. End of Season collections are large bulbs. Orders may be placed any time and will be filled about May 1. As the bulbs are all large ones there is plenty of time for planting after that date. Give yourself a real thrill by planting these bulbs.

Fifty Large Bulbs $1.40: 100 at $2.50: 250 at $5.00--No Discount

Extra Discounts For Early Orders

This year it is especially important that we sell out our stock by March 1. Our prices are already very low, but as a further inducement to our customers to order early we will allow the following extra discounts on orders received before March 1, 1940.

Orders of from $2.00 to $5.00, ten per cent; orders of from $5.00 to $10.00, fifteen per cent; orders of from $10.00 to $25.00 twenty per cent; orders of more than $25.00, twenty-five per cent. These discounts do not apply to orders received after March 1, so step on it. Washington customers must include sales tax.

Payment must accompany order.
